The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The prior art of record (namely, Osada and Salas) do not disclose, teach or suggest automatically transferring the print file over the network in response to the print request using at least one of HTTP or HTTPS, wherein the automatically transferring includes generating an upload begin request for the print file; transmitting the upload begin request over the network; receiving an upload begin response that includes an identification for the print file in response to the upload begin request; generating an upload request that includes the identification and a data packet comprising at least a portion of the print file; and transmitting the upload request over the network, as claimed in independent claim 28. Independent claims 21, 36, and 38-40 recite similar claimed subject matter as noted above and are allowed for the same or similar reasons as indicated above.
